

DELIVERY INFORMATION FOR CUSTOMERS IN INDONESIA

A Comprehensive Indonesian-English Dictionary

How will Nusantara send your order?

Nusantara Indonesian Bookshop Pty Ltd will ship your order ONLY by trackable means using 3kg Prepaid EMS International Courier satchels. This will cost AUD$40 per bag. Since the new Alan Stevens dictionary weighs approximately 2.2kg, each bag will hold ONE dictionary.

The total delivered price will be AUD$125 per dictionary (approximately USD$86), and delivery time from dispatch in Melbourne to delivery in Jakarta is approximately 2-4 business days (add a day or two for cities outside Jakarta).

How does this compare with Amazon?

Amazon's price is USD$65 for the same book before delivery charge. For a similar courier service, Amazon adds USD$29.99 plus USD$8.99 per book. The total is USD$103.98. For an expedited service (5-9 business days from dispatch), Amazon quotes USD$81.98, and for a standard service (up to 22 business days from dispatch) USD$76.98.

Remember, though, that Nusantara has stock on hand, and will dispatch your order on the same business day your order is received, as long as we receive it by 2pm AEST (11am WIB). And remember, too, that our shipments are all trackable.

Can Nusantara send multiple orders to the one address?

To minimise problems with Indonesian Customs, Nusantara prefers to send small shipments. Any savings made by sending bulk orders may be outweighed by additional customs charges in Indonesia. We can, if required, send 4 dictionaries to the one address for a delivery fee of AUD$99, and a total price of AUD$439. This will be sent in a 10kg EMS International Courier box. However, the customer must be aware of the potential for additional customs charges which may be levied by Indonesian Customs authorities, although usually this is the case for items over US$500. Nevertheless, because the dictionaries are large and heavy, Indonesian customs may want to inspect or add fees to a larger shipment.

An added incentive...

Nusantara Indonesian Bookshop began in Melbourne in 1993 as a bookshop dedicated to the promotion of the Indonesian language in Australia and overseas. We appreciate your business! As an added incentive, customers ordering a single Stevens dictionary may wish to purchase the book published by James Sneddon (author of Indonesian Reference Grammar, and Understanding Indonesian Grammar) in 2003: The Indonesian Language: Its History and Role in Modern Society (do a search online if you need more information about this excellent book). The Australian retail price is AUD$49.95, the export price is AUD$45.41, and we will supply it to you for only AUD$40.85. Since it will fit in the 3kg bag with the dictionary, you won't be charged extra postage.

Will an Indonesian edition be available soon?

According to Ohio University Press (email to me 15 September 2004), an Indonesian paperback edition will be published, but the proposed contract "does not allow for the paperback to be published before March of 2005", which is nearly 6 months away. When considering costs, you may wish to consider this timeframe, and also weigh up the advantages of receiving what is a beautifully published and bound hardcover edition.
